Muhammad Hanif Rizki

Canberra, Australia muhammad.rizki@anu.edu.au +61 425 171 213 M. Hanif Rizki

Profile

Master of Applied Economics graduate from the Australian National University with experience in economic research, policy analysis, data analysis, and academic teaching. Skilled in applying economic reasoning, quantitative methods, and clear communication to policy and institutional problems. Experience across central banking, macroeconomics, monetary economics, microeconomics, and econometrics. Interested in economics consulting, regulatory analysis, public policy, and data-informed strategy.

Education

Australian National University (ANU) Canberra, Australia
Master of Applied Economics, College of Business and Economics 2024 – 2026

- GPA: 6.31/7.00
- Indonesia Endowment Fund for Education (LPDP) Full Scholarship Awardee
- ANU Chancellor's International Scholarship Awardee
- Sessional Academic Tutor, ECON1102 Macroeconomics 1 and ECON2014/6014 Managerial Economics, Research School of Economics
- Volunteer, 60th Indonesia Project
- Head of Personal and Professional Development, ANUISA, Jan – Sept 2025

Diponegoro University (UNDIP) Semarang, Indonesia
Bachelor of Economics, Faculty of Economics and Business 2018 – 2022

- GPA: 3.84/4.00
- Undergraduate thesis: Estimating Engel Curves: Evidence from Indonesia
- Tutor and Research Assistant, Microeconomics I & II and Econometrics I & II
- Kampus Merdeka Bank Indonesia Internship Batch III

Professional Experience

Sessional Academic Tutor Canberra, Australia
Research School of Economics, Australian National University Feb 2026 – Present

- Tutor over 150 undergraduate students in ECON1102 Macroeconomics 1 (Semester 2, 2026), working with course convener Dr Sarah Yu
- Previously tutored over 70 undergraduate and postgraduate students in ECON2014/6014 Managerial Economics (Semester 1, 2026)
- Facilitate tutorials and applied problem-solving activities, translating technical economic concepts into clear and intuitive explanations
- Mark assessments and provide structured feedback in line with course rubrics and academic standards
- Support student learning through one-on-one academic guidance and responsive communication

Research Assistant Jakarta, Indonesia
Bank Indonesia Institute, Bank Indonesia Feb 2023 – May 2024

- Supported research projects in macroeconomics, monetary economics, and policy analysis, including work related to sovereign wealth funds
- Assisted with literature reviews, data collection, research preparation, and policy-related analytical tasks
- Contributed to in-house training, career development, and capacity-building programs for Bank Indonesia staff and external stakeholders
- Supported seminars and academic forums on central banking, financial markets, Islamic economics, and macroeconomic policy
- Prepared research, training, and presentation materials for institutional audiences

Academic Tutor & Research Assistant Semarang, Indonesia
Faculty of Economics and Business, Diponegoro University Aug 2020 – Dec 2022

- Tutored over 100 undergraduate students in Microeconomics I & II and Econometrics I & II
- Designed and marked problem sets and exams under faculty supervision
- Delivered R programming tutorials and supported students with applied data analysis tasks
- Assisted faculty research through data collection, cleaning, preparation, and administrative support
- Helped students connect economic theory with empirical applications and quantitative methods

Additional Experience

Founding Member and Writer Jakarta, Indonesia
Arthapala.id Jan 2026 – Present

- Co-founded an independent platform publishing analytical essays on economic development, institutions, macroeconomics, and public policy
- Write research-informed articles translating academic and policy debates into accessible analysis for broader audiences
- Develop essays connecting economic theory, empirical research, and policy implications

Data Analyst Intern Bali, Indonesia
Bank Indonesia Representative Office for Bali Province Aug 2021 – Jan 2022

- Supported policy and data work on the digitalisation of local government transactions in Bali Province
- Assisted the implementation team for payment system policy and cash management supervision
- Contributed to data preparation, reporting, and analysis related to regional payment system development

Data Analyst Intern Jakarta, Indonesia
Payment System Management Department, Bank Indonesia Apr – Jun 2021

- Analysed payment transaction data to examine shifts in Indonesian household spending patterns and consumer behaviour
- Supported data processing and interpretation for internal analysis on payment systems and consumption trends
- Prepared analytical summaries to support policy and departmental work

Skills

- Data and Analysis: Excel, R, Stata, MATLAB, econometric analysis, data cleaning, literature review
- Economics and Policy: Applied microeconomics, macroeconomics, monetary economics, development economics, public policy, econometrics
- Communication: Policy writing, academic tutoring, presentation design, research communication
- Design and Digital Tools: Canva, Adobe Illustrator, Adobe Premiere Pro
- Languages: Indonesian, native; English, fluent